LONDON, Oct. 24.—For the second successive night, the city of Genoa and other vital industrial regions of northern Italy were attacked by the Royal Air Force last night, the air ministry announced today.

Simultaneously, the Italian high command asserted that United States bombers had been shot down by Italian fighters and anti-aircraft fire, but investigation disclosed that Rome was referring to the battle of Egypt and not the new Genoa attack.

The British air ministry announced that Royal Air Force bombers had winged their way across the Alps again during the night from bases in England but there was no immediate confirmation that Americans took part in the bombing.

The Italian high command said that in addition to Genoa, large parts of which were laid waste Thursday night by two-ton blockbuster bombs, several places in the provinces of Piedmont, Liguria, and Lombardy were attacked.

Turin, arsenal city north of Genoa, again was hit.

Both high explosive bombs and incendiaries were dropped.

It was claimed by the Italians that damage to Genoa and Turin in the second raid was not serious.

Searching South Pacific For Capt. Rickenbacker

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Refusing to give up hope, all available American planes and ships today searched the vast expanse of the south Pacific for Capt. E. V. Ricken-backer, premier ace of the first world war, who has been missing on a secret flight since early Wednesday evening.

The war department announced that nothing has been heard from the famous flyer since he reported Oct. 21 that he had "slightly more than one hour's supply of gasoline."

Rickenbacker, who has defied death and won so many times in the past, was on a confidential inspection tour of American aerial strength in the Pacific. He took off from Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands and headed in a southwest direction.

Last Message
On the afternoon of Oct. 21 his plane radioed its position to another island in the Hawaiian group and several hours later it flashed out the message that the gas supply was running low.

Mrs. Roosevelt Ready To Make British Tour

By DIXIE TIGHE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt arose early today and breakfasted alone in her first floor suite in Buckingham Palace where she is the guest of King George and Queen Elizabeth. After breakfast the American First Lady joined the King and Queen and discussed with them plans for the series of tours that will give her a first-hand knowledge of England at war.

A large batch of mail arrived at the palace this morning for Mrs.
Roosevelt. There were also many cables from the United States.

Outside the palace the crowd that assembles daily to watch the changing of the guard were larger than usual. The throngs included many American soldiers and bluejackets.

Following the dinner in her honor at the palace last night Mrs. Roose-

New Solomons Commander Is Named By Navy

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Navy announced today that Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, who has been in command of United States forces during the present
Solomons campaign, has been relieved of his post.

As his successor the Navy named Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., widely known task force commander, who carried out smashing attacks against the Japanese in the Marshall and Gilbert and other enemy-held islands.

Ghormley's new duties will not be announced until some time later, and no reason was given for the shift at a time when the Japanese forces are exerting extreme pressure on American positions in the Solomons Islands.

At the same time the Navy announced three other changes in Pacific commands, which indicated that a swift change in tactics may be expected.

While Navy officials declined to discuss the significance of the changes, it was apparent on the surface that supervision of the war in the Solomons area has not been up to expectations.

Wife Believes Rickenbacker Will Turn Up

Pitt Seeking Out War-Vital Pennies

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—The University of Pittsburgh disclosed today that it had launched a campaign among its students to put war-vital pennies back into circulation, and that the first drive resulted in the unearthing of more than 10,000 coppers from piggy banks, souvenir collections and the like.

Main purpose of the drive, according to Dr. Ellwood Amos, assistant professor of finance who started it, is to divert the tons of copper which ordinarily would be made into pennies to essential war needs.
He pointed out that almost everyone saved pennies in piggy banks, jars and other containers, and that if these can be returned to circulation, tremendous quantities of copper will be saved.

Professor Amos said he was particularly anxious for the idea to catch on at other universities and colleges, and added that release of the pennies would eliminate a possible jump of two per cent in the cost of living.

Army Takes Over Butler Sanatorium

Final Agreement Signed On Friday

War Department Plans To Enlarge Institution Says Announcement

SANATORIUM NOT USED SINCE ERECTION

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 24.—Possession of the state's $3,000,000 unused sanatorium at Butler was vested today in the army following the completion of negotiations which resulted in the institution's leasing by the federal government. The war department will spend $2,000,000 enlarging the facilities for the care of convalescent soldiers. Under the terms of the agreement, which was signed yesterday, the state will receive $160,000 a year for 30 years and one dollar for each year thereafter. The 30 payments amounting to $4,800,000, will cover the interest and amortization of $2,999,835 which represents the state's investment in the institution. Originally intended as a tuberculosis hospital, Butler Sanatorium was completed in 1938 by the general state authority during the E. A. Tamm administration. However, when Gov. Arthur H. James assumed office in 1939, he said the hospital was not needed and it has remained idle ever since. The governor's office, in announcing the terms of the lease, stated that the sale of the sanatorium to the army would require legislative action. If the government decided to purchase the hospital and secure direct title, the proposal would have been submitted to the legislature when it convened in January.

LUXURY LINER AND BOMBER CRASH IN AIR

York, was in collision with an army bomber and crashed one-half mile west of Palm Springs.

Witnesses said part of the commercial plane broke away in mid-air after which it began to fall in spirals, striking a ledge about 1,000 feet up the mountain side.

Breaks Into Flames

The craft instantly broke into flames. Gasoline from the liner's tanks was sprayed over a considerable area. Several bodies were thrown clear of the wreckage, but were burned by the flaming fuel.

A description of the crash was given by Fred Klug, of Palm Springs, one of those who saw the wreckage. "The big plane was flying at about 1,000 feet," Klug said. "It fell in a circling dive, crashed about 1,000 feet up from the desert floor, burst into flames and exploded."

"The plane was consumed by flames in a very short time."

The pilot of the bomber was understood to have bailed out safely.

Investigate Tragedy

Army officials, airlines officials and the Civil Aeronautics authority immediately began a three-way investigation of the tragedy. Mr. San Jacinto rises precipitantly from the desert near this one-time winter resort of Hollywood film favorites. The report has been taken over as an army base.

Many of the victims, hopelessly trapped in the passenger ship, were burned beyond recognition.

Physicians from a Palm Springs army hospital rushed to the scene but because of the steep slope and the fact that the craft burned so fiercely, were unable to effect any rescues.

RUSSIAN ATTACKS MAY HERALD NEW COUNTER-ASSAULT

air force opened up strong attacks against Nazi ground forces.

A Moscow radio report said that ships of the Black Sea fleet had blasted an occupied port, believed to be Novorossisk, on the west Caucasian shores.

It was admitted by the Red army high command, however, that the Germans had made some headway in land fighting southeast of Novorossisk.

The Moscow radio said that fierce battles were in progress in the Novorossisk area.

"The enemy despite heavy losses still is stubbornly pressing forward," it was said.

Heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans through Soviet counter-attacks inside Stalingrad and in the Mordok area.

Only Nazi Advance

Only in the west Caucasus did the Germans score an advance.

"Southeast of Novorossisk," the high command upon communication said, "a superior enemy group crossed a water barrier."

Two companies of German troops were killed inside Stalingrad, where the Soviet defenders repelled all Nazi attacks. Eleven German tanks were destroyed.

The communiqué acknowledged that a group of Nazis equipped with tommy guns had broken through to the outskirts of a factory, but said that the Germans were completely wiped out.

"Northwest of Stalingrad our troops broke into an area of the enemy's defense and wiped out a large number of troops," the communiqué said.

"On another sector a Soviet unit repelled an enemy counter-attack, annihilating over 400 Rumanians."

Eight Nazi planes were said to have been shot down in this sector.

The Soviet air force became increasingly active in the mid-Caucasus, dealing heavy blows to German ground forces in the Mordok area.

New Action Flares

Part of a company of infantry was annihilated and the rest dispersed, and 24 German trucks destroyed by the aerial bombardment.

New action flared on the central front west of Moscow, where Soviet artillery fire and Russian scout forces were said to have destroyed seven Nazi machine gun posts, six dugouts and observation points. Some 300 German troops were killed in this action, the communiqué said.

Warships of the Soviet Baltic fleet were credited with sinking a 10,000-ton German transport.

With the exception of the German advance near the shores of the Black Sea, the Red army held the upper hand everywhere on the Volga-Caucasus front.

Southeast of Novorossisk continuing German attacks drove a wedge into the Soviet lines, but a bitter battle was under way to annihilate the enemy's penetration forces, the midnight communiqué reported.

Tremendous losses were inflicted on a German water force that attempted to seize an island in Lake Ladoga. The communiqué said 16 Nazi lake vessels were sunk by Soviet warships and naval planes of the Baltic fleet. The invasion expedition included 30 ships, with an escort of motor torpedo boats.

with the plane by radio since that time have proven futile.

No indication was given of the type or size of the plane carrying Rickenbacker or whether he was accompanied by any other person.

The 52-year-old flyer, president of Eastern Air Lines and one of the most outstanding figures in auto racing and aviation history returned only recently from England after studying American aircraft and performance in the European theater.

The war department disclosed that he was on a similar mission—an inspection trip for Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces—when he disappeared.

Hope Still Held

While the hours passed without word from the ace, hope was still held that he might have either landed on a small mid-Pacific atoll or at least survived by forced landing on the sea and reached safety in a rubber boat, which all army planes are equipped with.

Rickenbacker's ship disappeared in the same general region of the Pacific where Amelia Earhart, famous woman flyer, vanished in 1937 on the final leg of a round-the-world flight via the Equator.

It was only 20 months ago that Rickenbacker, who came through World War I with a record of shooting down 26 enemy planes, miraculously escaped death when an Eastern Air Lines plane crashed in a Georgia forest near Atlanta, killing eight persons and injuring the other eight aboard.

Rickenbacker suffered severe injuries to one hip and one leg and it was believed for a time he would be crippled for life. But, after lying in the hospital from February to June with a heavy cast covering the entire side of his body, he got up and walked out.

Born in Columbus, O., under the name of Vernon Rickenbacker, the flyer was sidetracked off an engineering course to become an automobile salesman. He quit this to take up auto racing at the age of 20 and was one of the country's outstanding auto speed kings before the first world war.

The Parent
Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAINING FOR HOME
RESPONSIBILITIES

What the average child in the United States lacks most, perhaps, in his upbringing is proper training to share in the everyday responsibilities of his home, and this lack is far more serious with boys, as a rule, than girls. Among the numerous reasons for this lack are these:

1. His parents may have servants who not only do practically all the work about the home but also wait on him hand and foot.
2. It may not occur to the parents that sharing in the home duties and responsibilities is essential to a child's moral growth.
3. Wishing to see their child happy "here and now" and have as much freedom as his playmates, many parents, supposing they are being kind, are inclined not to expect much help about the home from children.

Other Causes

4. A large number of parents who really believe their child, say of 12 or 15, should, as a matter of family justice and character education, help with the home chores just don't succeed in getting the youngster to help. These parents find it easier to do all the work themselves than to train their child to assist. By this time the child's resistance to such cooperation may be very strong. The parent probably was too late in beginning the training and not too skillful in effecting it.
5. Then, too, the American atmosphere has been charged with the doctrine that the child should do only what he feels like doing and that good parents always motivate the child to help at home—just make him like to help. Ever so many parents who desire to seem modern and progressive are trying to make this philosophy work. Yet it doesn't work, and before many of these parents realize it won't work the child has grown beyond the age when helping sufficiently of him can be effectively required of him.

6. Lingering in the muscles, bones and the nervous systems of many parents, especially fathers is the time-worn notion that boys should not do house work—make beds, sweep, wash dishes and the like.

Rules For Parents

1. Begin early. Training the child as soon as he is able to care for himself. Teach self-help.
2. Try to make helping at home as pleasant as possible but definite reality and require certain basic jobs of the boy or girl at home as soon as he is old enough to do them.
3. Let the boy take his place with the sister (or alone) with the dishpan or broom.
4. All new jobs only after the old ones are done well as routine. Make each job inescapable, using effective penalties if necessary but not scolding. Be reasonable.
5. When the child volunteers to help, be very appreciative. Let him also do some things he would like to do, such as he can do, but usually are done only by adults.

6. Solving Parent Problems
Q. Would you punish a toddler to make him come to you when you called him?
A. No; nor would I run after him. Instead I would go calmly to him and get him and if he resisted would talk of some of his experiences or items of his favorite stories, hoping that he would gradually comply and cooperate.
7. Q. Please give some rules for preventing and correcting eating scenes in the young child.
A. 1. Neither how nor feel any emotion about the child's eating.
2. Serve one food at a time and in very small portion. 3. When this is refused, end the meal then and there, seeing that the child can get no other food till the next regular meal time. 4. Continue in this manner until desired results had. 5. In case the child holds out for more than four successive meals develops nausea, call the doctor. My special bulletin on cultivating a healthy appetite and solving eating problems may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

THE CONSUMER GETS A CHANCE
It happened at the annual banquet for the employees of the electric company which supplied the lighting for a great city. The speakers of the evening were drafted from the city's celebrities, and numbered with the diners were many of the company's largest consumers of power.

A speaker, famous for his ability at the festive banquet, had the floor and was eulogizing the company. "I might say," he cried, "with your indulgence, I might say, in the words of the immortal poet, 'Honor the Light Brigade.'"

DUTIES OF SOCIAL SECRETARY

"I am an office secretary who has ambitions to become a social secretary. Please tell me the duties required of one in that position."

Answer: Only the very wealthy and socially prominent have need for social secretaries.

Their duties are to take complete charge of the clerical details incidental to the employer's social life—the writing of invitations, acceptances, regrets, keeping a list of engagements. Such a secretary attends to her employer's social correspondence, composing her own letters, wherever possible, or taking answers according to the employer's dictation. She should check up on all bills and possibly fill in checks for their payment.

Sometimes a social secretary is required to plan dances and other social functions, arrange for the decorations and details of entertainment. She has no special social privileges in the household unless she is a companion as well as a secretary.

Question: Is it ever permissible for a man to refuse to allow a member of the stag line to cut in?—Eloise.

Answer: No. When cutting is the rule at a dance, a man should relinquish his partner with good grace, no matter how unwilling he may be. And he should not immediately cut in on the same man. If he wants the girl back, he should wait until another stag has danced a few steps with her.

Question: Should a woman give her husband a gift on their wedding anniversary?—Wife.

Answer: From what I have learned, few do. But I think it should be done. Men are invariably forgotten when gifts are distributed. I wonder why? Children with an income should also remember this day and send them a gift.

Transplanted Germans Differ From Italians
Attorney General Biddle Hands Down Opinion
Says Germans Have Tendency To Remain German

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—An Italian, settling in some other than the country of his nativity, can transform himself into a good citizen of the land of his adoption. That's what Attorney General Francis Biddle recognized in his order exempting those in our own midst from classification as enemy aliens.

Germans have a pretty strong tendency to stay German indefinitely. Not only is this true of those who do their own emigrating. It also is apt to be true of their children and grandchildren, and occasionally on down through several additional generations—folk who, maybe, never saw the Fatherland, but still retain a lot of its inherited characteristics in their systems.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York is a sample of quite recent Italian descent. He was born here, to be sure, but his parents weren't. They were Italian enough, originally, to name him "Little Flower" in the language of the peninsula they hailed from. But who'd think of Fiorello as anything but a dyed-in-the-wool American, with a monicker brought from abroad at least as far back as the landing of the Mayflower's first batch of passengers? A "von", though, doesn't so readily get over it.

All the same, the Teutonic tribe furnished us with the ancestry for a very sizable portion of our best people.

Moreover, a few keep coming—refugees from Nazism and belligerently on our side against the Axis.

Treat 'Em Alike
Well, then, why shouldn't Attorney General Biddle proclaim these folk also as exempt from consideration as much as Italians amongst us? The point's been raised and seems to be entitled to discussion on its merits.

The answer evidently is that an anti-Nazi German is as deserving of hospitable treatment as any other foreign sojourner with us, but that his case requires individual investigation, rather than such a blanket order as the justice department issued for the Italian descent.

The presumption is automatically favorable so as to a German.

Federal Secret Service Chief J. Edgar Hoover dug into the situation thoroughly preceding the issue.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE ONLY QUESTION.

Fighting America is rapidly discarding all vestiges of the America at peace. Girding itself for total war, traditional rights and freedoms are being suspended or curtailed daily to make this nation a more efficient and formidable fighting machine.

To its present price control program, the government will soon extend absolute control over all farm products and prices, and over the salaries and wages of virtually every worker in the country. In the future probably no war worker will be permitted to change his job without government permission. The lives and driving habits of car owners will soon be sharply altered by nationwide gasoline rationing.

Already the Office of Defense Transportation has assumed virtual control of the nation's motor transportation industry and its four million employees. By November 15, some five million commercial vehicles will have to secure certificates of necessity, permitting them to operate, buy gasoline, apply for tires or parts, and even fixing the mileage they operate.

To California, with its war industries, civilian workers and agriculture far more dependent upon motor transportation than any other state—twenty-five million tons of fresh farm produce alone are moved over this State's highways!—the action of the ODT is of major concern. If it contributes to winning the war, well and good. But if it merely creates jobs for thousands of inexperienced government officials, giving them unlimited power to muzzle most transportation services, it is a disaster.

It was pressed up for many months, then, it will contribute nothing to winning the war. California at least cannot afford to mishandle this as the rubber shortage was.

We have a war to win. Every new decree, every new agency, every new law, must be justified, should have to pass muster to the question: "Will it carry forward the war job more efficiently and speedily?" That's the question, and today the only question!

There is no meat shortage. The more animals killed to provide choice cuts for the Army, the more scrap meat there is for hotdogs.

Generals who get canned for failing to do the impossible will at least know how the football coaches feel.

The Court Vacancy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.

WHEN THE President appoints a successor to former Justice Byrnes on the Supreme Court it is to be hoped that he will name not only a lawyer of recognized quality but one who, once sworn in, will stay on the bench until he dies or retires in the normal way.

AND, despite the obvious itching of one or two of the sitting justices to be "called," it is to be further hoped that Mr. Roosevelt will stop turning to the court for men to head other commissions or boards. It is quite certain that the stronger members on the court echo that hope. They know, as does every thoughtful man who considers the situation, that if the President continues his present practice the stability and character of the court will be undermined and its prestige in the country diminished.

A CERTAIN damage has already been done. No one criticizes Mr. Byrnes for responding to the President's call. Considering all the circumstances in his case, it was too much to expect him to refuse. Nevertheless, the drafting of him marked the third time in nine months that the President has asked a justice to abandon his work on the bench to do an outside job for him. The first time was when he made Justice Roberts head of the Pearl Harbor investigating commission. The second was when he invited Chief Justice Stone to head the rubber investigation—an invitation which was firmly and properly declined. Mr. Byrnes was the third.

IF THERE were in the whole country no one outside the court competent to perform these important tasks as well as members of the court, then the President would be justified in asking them and they would not be justified in declining. But no one contends that that is the case. Very clearly what the President is doing is utilizing the prestige of the court and the public esteem in which Supreme Court justices are held.

LOOKING AT LIFE—By Erich
Brandeis

A spick-and-span khaki-colored model canteen was drawn up at the curb in front of New York's YWCA building.

Nine attractive girls in natty uniforms, members of the Navy League, invited all comers to have a snack "on the house."

It was the noon hour and thousands of people passed on their way to lunch.

But nobody accepted the invitation.

"What's the catch?" I asked one young fellow. "Let's have the low-down on the racket."

The girls patiently explained that the whole thing was a regular part of their training course routine. They had prepared sandwiches, cole slaw, cookies, and mugs of coffee. There was to be no charge and everybody was welcome until the victuals were all gone.

A few stragglers accepted the invitation and a few more, until finally the canteen was empty.

But the nine girls had learned a new lesson—a lesson in life.

Human beings, particularly in a large city, are suspicious of each other.

Whenever something is free or low in price, it's a racket.

You don't get anything for nothing, they think.

The Navy League girls were particularly surprised at the attitude of the children.

They wanted the cookies. The sandwiches looked good, and the kids were hungry.

But they had been told by their parents never to eat strange food never to accept anything from strangers.

It's too bad that life has gotten that way, isn't it?

When suspicion creeps in, friendliness, neighborliness, kindness go out.

Suspicion can destroy even the best of motives.

Sometimes I wonder whether the trouble with this world isn't the people that live in it.

"In the snow-covered dingle the sleigh bells do jingle."

What sports are ahead as October ushers in the winter?

The coming season has its compensations aplenty.

They can be inexpensive, healthful and exhilarating.

Sledding does not wear out rubber or burn up gasoline.

Walking in the brisk, keen air is invigorating.

Long winter evenings can be fruitful of benefit.

Good books and games can be worthwhile associates.

The world is torn asunder by war and loved ones are away.

We must draw a little closer to those at home.

Peace of mind and heart can come with honest toil.

A kind word and a smile for others is a fine winter tonic.

Girl Scout Week Starts Tomorrow

Seven War Service Days By Local Scouts To Be Devoted To War Work

Girl Scouts of New Castle will celebrate national Girl Scout Week October 25-31 with a special program of demonstrations and events to illustrate the part which girls can take in the war effort.

The traditional Seven Service Days of Girl Scout Week will become the Seven War Service Days, according to plans outlined by Miss Marie C. Hay, Girl Scout director, today. Emphasis will be placed upon the typical things which Girl Scouts do, translated into wartime terms and adapted to wartime needs. Homemaking Day, for example, will be devoted to conservation and safety in the home. Arts and Crafts Day has been set aside as the time to demonstrate how Girl Scouts turn their talents to making something useful out of discarded materials.

High spot of the week will be Friday, October 30, which is Citizenship Day on the Girl Scout calendar. At this time New Castle's Girl Scouts will each buy an extra war saving stamp if they haven't already done so for the presentation of the Girl Scout Victory Fund which has been established to help children who have suffered from the war.

Heading the committees for the celebration of the week is Mrs. W. Keith McAfee, chairman of the public relations committee on the council. The committee for the window demonstrations, which will be held October 25 and 31, is Mrs. Helen Walters, Mrs. LeRoy Shoaff and Miss Ruth Hanna. They report that the following troops will be demonstrating Monday from 6 to 8 p. m. in the New Castle Store window: Troops 15, 13, 5, 6 and 9. In the Paul Butz floral windows: Troops 41, 7, 14, 8 and 43. On Saturday the schedule lists Troops 4, 12, 21 and 3 appearing in the New Castle Store window from 2 to 4 p. m., with Troops 10, 20, 28, 11 and 1 at the Butz window.

Mrs. Francis Sowersby Jr. is chairman of the radio committee and reports that a group of scouts will broadcast over our local station at 5:05 p. m. Wednesday, October 28.

Sunday and throughout the week you will see the girls in their familiar green or brown outfits as they join with more than 725,000 others in the United States, all of whom will take part in programs similar to that being arranged locally.

ance of Attorney General Biddle's order. He didn't find enough pro-Axis Italians in the United States to warrant a search. I'd have known that he wouldn't, from chats with Italian-Americans whom I'm personally acquainted with. The unanimity of their verdict against Duce Mussolini was 100 per cent or thereabouts. Since then it's become apparent that it's accurately representative of home-staying Italy.

I'd judge that Herr Hitler and Benito think so, too. Adolf, from all accounts, seemingly is preparing for a German grab of Italian territory, to counteract Benito's bungling—or perhaps disloyalty to him; Benito's reported to be as mad as a hatter at him, and probably fearful for his personal scalp, from his own country's vengeance.

We've something to learn, by the way, from South America.

Here in the U. S. A. we've fairly thoroughly assimilated our Old World elements, until we don't know which from which amongst us.

On the southern continent they remain sharply colonized, separately.

Germans Stay That Way

The Germans, and their descendants, where they're thick, are pro-Axis, to the extent of being rebellious, wherever their local governments disagree with 'em.

At the outset it was wondered if the Italian congregations wouldn't be pro-Axis likewise, their home land being in the same colonialization.

It hasn't turned out that way.

The Latin American Germans remain. They congregate among themselves to an extent that extracts speeches from Yankees like Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles—an address that I, personally thought, as a long-time South American resident, might suitably have been dispensed with. The Italians, however, are anti-Hitler (plus anti-Mussolini) as could be requested of 'em.

Francis Biddle's diplomacy was dandy in that quarter.

BRITISH LAUNCH NEW OFFENSIVE AGAINST ROMMEL IN EGYPT

disclosed in a United States Army headquarters communique which said:

"Fighter aircraft of the desert air task force of the United States Middle East air force took part yesterday in strafing and bombing attacks against forward enemy landing grounds.

"Our aircraft escorted Allied fighter-bombers on these missions. Although Rommel has lost many ships and reinforcements, a formidable enemy force opposes the British army, which enjoys American aid so far as aircraft, tank specialists, repairmen and mechanics are concerned.

It is estimated that Rommel has two German armored divisions, two Italian armored divisions, one German motorized division and one partly motorized infantry division.

In addition, the Italians have about six infantry divisions which probably are not up to full strength.

Defense Organized

It is known that the Axis has been organizing defenses in depth with elaborate mine fields at strong points. The immediate Allied objective is to capture or destroy the enemy's positions in front of its own defensive line from the Qattara salt marshes to the sea.

A peculiar military problem is posed since the Axis are facing each other on a 35-mile front with firm flanks and no way of getting around them. One end of the line is anchored on the Mediterranean and the other at the precipitate cliff which borders Qattara.

Hence, the British had no alternative to a direct frontal attack.

Official announcement of the opening of the Allied drive was made in a communique issued from headquarters of Gen. Harold R. L. G. Alexander, commander of British armies in the Middle East.

Strong Air Support

Supported by strong armadas of aircraft, General Alexander's communique said, the Eighth army under command of Lieut. Gen. Bernard Law Montgomery attacked last night.

Fierce fighting developed and is continuing. The battle apparently was raging all along the 35-mile desert battle front extending from a point west of El Alamein on the Mediterranean coast southward to the Qattara salt marshes.

That the assault was general was clear from the wording of the communique, which said that "the Eighth army, with strong air support, attacked."

The British drive broke a stalemate in the land fighting in Egypt which had prevailed since a small scale assault launched by the British, Australian and South African troops last July 22 to improve their positions died down.

In the latter attack the Axis line, formed after a headlong drive by Rommel's forces across Libya and midway into Egypt 70 miles from the British base of Alexandria, was pushed back from five to ten miles.

The new offensive by the Eighth army came as a climax to heavy aerial activity conducted by the Allies for more than a fortnight against Axis strong German and Italian air blows against the British Mediterranean base of Malta.

FEWER NAILS IN BOOTS

(International News Service) LONDON—British troops all over the country are quietly celebrating today. They've heard some really good news. This is the announcement issued by the war office that started it all:

"Army boots are to have fewer nails because of the metal shortage. In the future military shoes will have 30 instead of 36 hob-nails."

The state bird of Minnesota is the goldfinch, although it has not been made official.

tics are held to commend his commissions to the people. As was said the other day, he wants to get someone who will be believed.

THIS, OF course, is a laudable wish, but it isn't necessary to go to the court to fulfill it. Apparently the President does not realize how much he is tarnishing the tradition of aloofness which is so valuable a part of its foundation and contributes so much to the popular reverence for this our highest tribunal, without which reverence our system would be in a pretty bad way. Now can it be said that the publicity which has been reaped recently by two of the sitting justices has added to the dignity of the court. Mr. Justice Murphy's last summer's soldiering vacation got his uniformed picture into all the papers, but unless he intended to resign from the bench and stay in the army it is a little difficult to see the point. As to Mr. Justice Douglas, his latest publicity has come in a repetition of the Horatio Algeresque story of his life appearing in a recent number of a national magazine and evidently written under the mistaken impression, presumably shared by Mr. Douglas, that he was to be given the job which the President gave Mr. Byrnes.

MORE REVEALING than the article itself was the comment of the magazine as to how the author obtained the first-hand information. It was a highly eulogistic piece. "When" it was stated, "Jack Alexander went to Washington to gather material for an interview with Justice Douglas within the cathedral-like austerity of the Supreme Court chambers. He checked in at the Raleigh Hotel and called the justice on the phone from his room, asking for an appointment. 'I'll be right down,' said Douglas. Before Alexander had recovered from his shock Douglas knocked at the door, walked in, shed his hat at the bed and sat down."

UNQUESTIONABLY, that established precedent. In the past, Supreme Court justices, above all other men, have shrunk from publicity. They gave no interviews, spoke only before bar associations or kindred organizations. Here is a justice who, far from shrinking, rushes to a hotel room to meet the publicity-much more than halfhearted. One can imagine that the reaction of this unique incident would cause goose flesh to break out all over some of Mr. Douglas' colleagues. There may be those who think this sort of thing amusing and that to raise these questions of dignity of the court; of its stability, of the respect in which it is held by the masses of the people, is trivial and strained. But few thoughtful men think that. The truth is that on the bench and in the bar the more worth-while judges and lawyers are deeply disturbed over what has been happening to the Supreme Court in recent years. There would be great relief among them if the President saw fit now to appoint a permanent, non-political-seeking, non-political, thoroughly equipped justice to take the vacant seat.

Garbage Collectors In Philadelphia Are Out On Strike

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Rubbish and ashes lay uncollected and highways remained unkept in approximately one-quarter of this metropolis today as a strike of 1700 city employees entered its second day.

Garbage collections for the most part were not affected, since 75 per cent of that work is done by private contractors. The two-day stoppage was ordered by Local 222, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFL).

Delegates of the local will meet tomorrow to decide if the walkout will be extended into next week. The union charged that Public Works Director John H. Neeson failed to live up to a wage contract including an over-time pay provision.

The purpose of the association was to give men and women to Christ. It is the oldest interdenominational Christian laymen's organization in the country. For more than 30 years, the Gideons have been known chiefly through their Bible placing ministry. The Gideons being a non-profit organization, all money given to them goes to their testament fund to aid in the distribution of Bibles to service men.

The Gideon rally will open this evening at 5:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. with registration. At 6:30 p. m., there will be a fellowship dinner in a local tea room.

INDUSTRIAL HEROES

Practically every day we read of some new member of our armed forces receiving a coveted award. The Congressional Medal of Honor... the Distinguished Service Cross... the Purple Heart. All are awarded for one basic purpose... to honor those who showed heroism, courage and initiative—"above and beyond the call of duty."

Industry has its heroes, too. At Johnson Bronze recently, four employees were awarded for their EXTRA contribution to Victory. Walter Ecklund was cited for combining two operations in one. Stan Melcer improved the method of splitting bearings. Mike Kendra improved the method of chucking on a job. Joe Elliott changed the method of burring. All of these ideas had but one purpose... to give our fighting boys more equipment—quicker.

Johnson Bronze has always encouraged new ideas from the employees. Suggestion boxes are placed at convenient locations. Employees are rewarded for their ideas with War Bonds and Stamps. It's just another example of teamwork between the employees and management. Today, these new ideas will help win the war. Tomorrow they will help industry build better products for peace.

THROW YOUR SCRAP INTO THE FIGHT!

Lee Guides Locals To 4th WPIAL Win

"Hurricane" Grid Ace Scores Twice, Extends Season Touchdown Total To 14; Currie's Running Adds Rare Color To Most Exciting Battle Of Year; Mt. Lebanon Unfurled Surprising Offensive Strength; Visitors' Clean Slate Smeared; Invaders' Third Period Rally Jars Stands; Lee Uncorks One Of Most Deceptive Plays Ever Seen At Stadium.

In a contest that sent thrills jingling up and down the spinal cords of 7,916 goggled-eyed spectators, New Castle high's skillful football troupe splashed black paint on Mt. Lebanon's immaculate record, taming the "Blue Devils" by a 20-6 count, Friday night at Taggart stadium.

Bob "General" Lee, performing feats of legerdemain, and Russ "Ranger" Currie, who galloped across the stripes like a Kentucky Derby winner, guided the unbeaten "Canes to their fourth Class AA WPIAL conquest and the sixth triumph of the season.

Our boys dented the visitors goal line in the first five minute of play in machine-gun-like fashion. Checked in the opening minute the locals played their hand cozy, Lee kicking the leather. Ullam returned to his 23 after pocketing the punt on the 20.

Seemingly "stage struck," Mt. Lebanon attempted two unsuccessful line thrusts. Floyd Lang masterfully quick kicked to Lee on the N. C. 30. The colored sensation spun and booted to the 43 before being felled.

With perfect change of pace and blinding speed, Lee tore around his right end. Ullam finally reached the carrier and bagged him on the 34. Currie swept wide around left end to the Lebanon 19, zig-zagging beautifully. On line smashes, two by Lee and another by Gunn, New Castle reached the 12.

Lee Mystifies Foes
On fourth down, Lee completely mystified the foes by wheeling back to pass. Currie cruising around, shared the ball from his outstretched right hand of his mate and departed for the goal line. Tony Razzano cleared the avenue by executing a perfect block, removing Ullam out of the play. Currie continued over unimpeded.

With Lee holding, Mike Roussos' automatic left foot sent the ball between the pipes. So, in a half dozen plays, the scoreboard showed a 7-0 N. C. edge.

Lee's punt to the visiting 1 high-lighted play as the opening round was about to run out. With its back against the wall, Mt. Lebanon was forced to kick, Lang lifting the oval to his 26, Capitas falling on the ball.

On a delayed buck, Lee hammered to the 20 and then to the 17 on a center buck. Gunn kept the rally intact by plowing center to the 12. He got to yard closer through off tackle and Lee was stopped cold on an attempted right end skirt as the first quarter whistle sounded.

The Perfect Play
In one of the most deceptive plays ever unfurled on the stadium turf, on the opening movement of the second, Lee assumed a semi Statue of Liberty pose. Currie started his jaunt around to take the ball. The Lebanon defense started converging to meet Currie.

Suddenly, Lee wheeled, hid the ball and expertly kept it himself and headed toward the sidelines. His lone worry was keeping inside the playing field. He did this perfectly and darted the dozen remaining yards for his second score. The play was so deceptive that most of the onlookers didn't know who had the ball for several seconds. Roussos' second placement was wide.

Their offensive strategy checked by the local front barrier, the Blue Devils again were compelled to punt. Lee sinking his cleats into the visiting 46 after catching the ball on the N. C. 40. Lee next shot an aerial to Substitute Denver Newman on the 18. Another sky raid, Lee to Tedesco, netted only two.

In another flawless maneuver, Lee took the snap back, stopped momentarily while the line opened a hole. He twisted through the gap and passed one would-be tackler and then another. He paraded over but New Castle suffered a 15-yard penalty for holding. The rally then sputtered.

Genkinger renewed hopes for another score by intercepting Substitute Corbett's aerial on the Mt. Lebanon 26. A pass and three line punches failed as the half ended. Their spirits undaunted despite a 13 point deficit, the Leuchter coach snatched a lead in the first minute of the third period. Jenner hauled the piskin on the kickoff, from his 25 to the 42. Lang passed through a big hole at right tackle to the New Castle 45.

At this juncture, Owen, center, became an end, too, because he was the last man on the right side of his line. He snapped back to Quarterback Eddy. The receiver showed the ball right back to Owen who darted around left end to the New Castle 20. The play fooled everyone in the stadium.

Mt. Lebanon Scores
Lang spun through center like a top, finally being thumped on the 6. Lang and Ullam pushed to the 1 on powerful center jabs. Floyd Lang electrified the 800 Mt. Lebanon onlookers by shooting across center for a touchdown. He tried a placement for the seventh point but missed.

In a few moments, what started out to be a cakewalk, turned into a tight ball game.

New Castle threatened again after Lee had trucked the kickoff to the N. C. 30 from the 5. Lee, Gunn and Currie added a few yards through center and right tackle.

Behind crisp blocking, Currie cruised left end to the Mt. Lebanon 36, where he was forced out of bounds. Lee and Gunn got to the 21 on a two-man line bucking expedition. After Currie legged to the 17, Lee, on a delayed buck, maneuvered to the 5, and Gunn hammered to the 4. On the subsequent play, Gunn fumbled and Mt. Lebanon recovered on the 3.

Lang dashed from behind the goal line to the 10 and quick kicked on the following play to New Castle's 46. Gunn and Lee chewed up three yards through center and Lee flipped a pass which Friday intercepted on his 40. He moved to the 49. Laboon revived the visitors' hopes by scampering around left end, Lee alone separated him from the goal line.

The local star eluded the blocker and cunningly pushed Laboon out to the 33. After Lang got to the 33, the third quarter closed. As the fourth started, Ullam tried an end jaunt. Pete Tedesco sailed through and shrewdly halted the carrier on the 35. Laboon fumbled. John Zubkowsky eased the tension by recovering on the 35.

New Castle advanced to the visiting 19, thanks to a 36-yard run by Lee, but Gunn fumbled on the next play and Capitas recovered for the Blue Devils. Two plays fizzled and Lang punted to Lee on the N. C. 40. The prize griddler streaked to the Lebanon 45.

The locals drew a 15-yard penalty for holding, pushing the ball back to the 49. The Mounties next, however, received a similar loss on a pushing violation. New Castle possessing the swinehide on the 34.

'Canes Clinch Setto
On the Statue of Liberty play, Currie skirted left end to the 15. Razzano's block helping to pave the way for the 19-yard advance. Lee sliced between tackle and guard to the 5 and then to the 1 through center. Lee swung right and then cut in over right tackle for the clincher. Roussos' kick was true, boosting the lead, 20-6, as the time was running out.

Tedesco set up another scoring opportunity by intercepting Corbett's pass on the Lebanon 28. The attack sputtered on the 10 with Mike Roussos trying a field goal. The contest ended with Lebanon firing passes all over the field.

Lee, whose name will go down in local annals as one of the greatest athletes to ever flaunt New Castle colors, was toute suite in bold caps. He was ubiquitous and punted, carried, passed, plunged, faked and ran like the hero of a sports story book. He scored twice, running his season touchdown total to 14. He ripped off 151 yards through scrimmage and punted for an average of 40 yards.

Currie played his best game of the season. His end jaunts injected rare color into the proceedings as he skipped with the agility of a ballet dancer. Tedesco's defensive play caused a lot of talk in the stands.

Zubkowsky, Razzano Star
There were two gems on the line. John Zubkowsky and Tony Razzano. The pair uncorked their Sunday brand of ball, especially on defense. Genkinger and Joseph backed up the wall in pleasing fashion. Big Mike Roussos gave the visitors many headaches. Henry Clark, a substitute left little to be desired.

The visitors packed surprising deception in their offense. Tom Laboon and Floyd Lang, two of the flashiest boys to show here, performed the tricky stuff with lots of savvy. The lineplay of Jenner and Owen blazed.

The locals met their final Double A league opponent next Friday night here, facing an always good Scott High eleven.

Seventeen Game Schedule Almost Complete; Four Vets Are Left

(Special To The News)
NEW WILLIAMSTON, Oct. 24.—Coach Grover C. Washbaugh is putting the final touches to the final schedule. Veterans back from last year's team include Frank O'Hara, Fred Miller, Charley Goldblum and Bob Dierken, in addition to some promising freshman material.

Fistic Sport To Be Resumed

Last Fistic Show Was Held In July; Last Bout Here For Moran

Following a three months interval boxing will be resumed here Wednesday night when Private Frankie Moran of New Castle and Billy Shelton of Pittsburgh, lightweights, clash in the feature battle of an eight-bout program. Each battle is A. A. U. rules.

It will be Moran's last appearance here because the day following the bout he will depart for New Cumberland Reception center. He already has been sworn in but at present has the status of being on furlough.

No doubt a nice crowd will turn out to say good-bye to Frankie who has always fought consistently here and is in the good graces of the fans.

Another topnotch scrap will find Baby Face Leasure of this city opposed to Nick Wargo, former national junior lightweight champion.

Frankie Cordy the Nulph brothers and other amateur boxers who earned enviable reputations last summer in different rings, will be among those on the Jefferson A. C. calendar.

Unusual Formations Feature Band Show

Between Halves Program Centers Around Song, "This Is Worth Fighting For"

With the theme of the presentation centering around the song, "This Is Worth Fighting For," New Castle high's well-regimented band scored a flock of touchdowns between halves last night at Taggart stadium.

The musicians formed sketches of a church, a home and a school, playing appropriate tunes.

The show opened with the large band marching to the center of the field playing a well known tune of old, "Marching Along Together." After outlining a church steeple, strains of "This Is Worth Fighting For," filled the crisp air. "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" was played next.

"Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "The Little Red School House" completed the unusual and difficult show which pleased the crowd.

Before the start of the game, the band proceeded toward the southern flag pole for flag raising ceremonies.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Saturday nuggets:-

Now that Pitt University's august board has partially waived the freshman rule, a flock of yearlings will join the varsity when the Golden Cats mix football shots with Penn State, first at State College and then at Pittsburgh.

The mandate has opened the gate for one of our boys—"Lindy" Lauro, a Mahoningtown citizen. The dark and handsome athlete, who enrolled in the Smoky Institution following a year's study at Alabama, is a dead end to show his stuff in the three engagements.

If New Castle had not tamed Massillon's "Tigers," that balmy October night in 1937, the team that Paul Brown formerly coached today would be sporting a 73-game winning streak instead of 48 in a row. Those Ohioans still talk about that setback.

Pardon Me!

Sorry, buddy, but I won't be able to stop to visit. I'm on my way for a touchdown. No. 55 is Bill Kelleher of the Army. The tackler failed to bring Bill down.

N. B. A. BLASTS N. Y. COMMISH

Claim That New York Athletic Commission "Balls Things Up"

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The National Boxing Association today blasted the New York State Athletic Commission as a body which "persists in balling things up."

The NBA issued a statement attacking the New York commission for not recognizing as a title contest a recent 12-round bout in California in which world bantamweight champ Lou Salica lost to Manuel Ortiz.

Salica is still recognized as the champ in New York because the fight was not a 15-rounder while the NBA views Ortiz as the rightful holder of the crown.

"In spite of the National Boxing Association's actions in eliminating the silly situation of two world's champions, one for that part of the world covered by the NBA and the other for the New York State Athletic Commission's own statewide world, the latter body persists in balling things up," the statement said.

"In California Lou Salica of New York, world bantamweight champion, signed to defend his title against Manuel Ortiz, the latter defeated Salica by decision after 12 rounds, the legal limit for boxing bouts in California."

"New York persists in its ridiculous claim that Salica is still champion because the bout was not a 15-rounder."

"That ought to be good news to old Jack Dempsey. If New York is consistent Dempsey is still champion. The bout with Gene Tunney in Philadelphia was a 10-rounder."

WEST CHESTER WINS

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 24.—West Chester State Teachers college struck four times through the air last night to humble the Indiana State Teachers, 20 to 0, at Wayne Field.

More informed quarters have estimated that 60 per cent of the players in the majors last season will be in service by next March 1. Since Pearl Harbor, more than 3,000 amateur and pro fighters have joined the armed forces.

Steelers To Face Washington Sunday

Bears Plan "Going-Away-Party" For Their Genial Boss, George Halas

By H. C. WARREN
(International News Service Staff Writer)
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The Chicago Bears today were planning a "going-away party" for their coach, George S. Halas, who will leave within a few days for Washington to accept a commission as lieutenant commander in the navy.

The National Football League schedule has invited the Philadelphia Eagles, cellar inhabitants of the loop's Eastern division, to be the victims of the Bears' party. The "going-away-party" is to be in the way of a touchdown parade for the chief.

Tomorrow's major engagement on the National Football League front will be staged at Pittsburgh where the Washington Redskins, leaders of the loop's Eastern division, meet the second-place Steelers. In the first game of the season between the two teams, Washington won, 28 to 14. A loss for the Redskins tomorrow will place them in a tie with Pittsburgh for the Eastern division leadership.

Third place in the Eastern division will be at stake in Brooklyn when the Eagles meet up with the New York Giants. Each team enters the game with a record of two wins out of four games and are now tied for third place.

The Chicago Cardinals go to Cleveland for a second game with the Rams. In the first game between the two teams played at Buffalo, N. Y., six weeks ago, the Cardinals won, 7 to 0. The other league game brings Detroit and Green Bay together at Detroit for a second meeting.

Moran Over Again
In the second chapter, Shenango took over on its 30. Kitzko, Moran and F. Adamczyk again took turns at hugging the oval and gained repeatedly. Moving to the Union 5, Moran punched over, finding a beautiful hole in the line. The extra point attempt fizzled.

Union punted in the third after being unable to penetrate the Stalengrad-like line set up by the host team. Shenango started the march from its 35. With F. Adamczyk and Kitzko spearheading the caravan, to the accompaniment of cheers, the Shenango force pushed to the 2. Andy Kitzko plowed over for the third six-pointer. Again, the extra marker evaded the winners.

The final half dozen points were amassed on a 45 yard parade. Moran set up the scoring chance by dashing 25 yards on a cleverly executed reverse. Andy Kitzko crossed past the final stripe. F. Adamczyk failed to annex the 25th point.

Game Union met stiff resistance throughout, invading Shenango terrain only once, getting to the 45. The charge was halted by the staunch opponent forward wall.

Shenango stacked up 20 first downs against 2 and netted 279 yards through scrimmage plays compared to 39 for the Scotland Laners.

Backs Star
The backfield play of the victorious eleven was spearheaded by the plunking and accurate blocking of Frank Adamczyk. Julian Adamczyk, Frank's cousin, glittered with several sensational blocks. Pete Moran uncovered his customary flashy game. Andy Kitzko proved a thorn in the path of the Unionites all afternoon. The line as mentioned previously, was loaded with power.

Walter Pruitt, Anthony Staph, Pete Moran, Julian and Frank Adamczyk played their last home game. For Union, the play of Amerella, Kline, Boron and Cumberlande featured.

Next Friday afternoon at Bessemer, Shenango collides with undefeated Bessemer high for the local championship.

Shenango High Edges Closer To Grid Title; Repels Union Team, 25-0

"Wildcats" Cross Final Stripe On Drives Of 65, 70, 66 And 45 Yards

BATTLE BESSEMER FRIDAY FOR TOGA

Flashing a ground attack that packed the punch and drive of a Grant tank, Shenango Township high, 1941 Lawrence County Class B champion, skirted closer to the crown by defeating Union Township high, 25-0, Friday afternoon on Shenango field.

The Nahas-coached machine, blocking almost flawlessly through, repulsed Union's opening offense and then piled up a four-touchdown margin on drives of 65, 70, 66 and 45 yards.

Taking possession on their 35, the East New Castle "Wildcats" started the goalward jaunt with Frank Adamczyk smashing through for 10. With Moran and Kitzko contributing consistently, the Shenangos reached the 2. Peter Moran bounced over and F. Adamczyk place kicked the extra point.

CAUSE COUNTED

The Washington Redskins took a long training trip west and it cost only $500, exhibition games paying the rest. The club also had the satisfaction of helping the army raise $50,000 for the game it played with Major Wallace Wade's Western Army stars.

Stock Market
Shade Firmer

Few Sections Lag Somewhat
After Yesterday's Irregular Performance

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The stock market was a shade firmer today although a few sections continued to lag after yesterday's irregular performance.

Gains generally were of modest proportions. Du Pont was among the few issues to advance a point or more.

Medium and cheaper grade rail bonds added modestly to Friday's gains, but the general corporate list was barely changed.

Fractional gains were registered by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Kennecott, Westinghouse, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, and Woolworth.

Case, Celanese, American Airlines and few rails were inclined to lag. Allied Chemical tumbled 2 points to 142½. Liggett & Myers "B" lost half as much.

Ellwood High Nosed
Out By Aliquippa 14-13
In Spectacular Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 24.—"By the skin of their teeth," or specifically by the extra point, Aliquippa stayed in the WPAL race last night at Lincoln field when they defeated Ellwood High school by the narrow score of 14 to 13.

In a magnificent fourth quarter rally, the Ellwood High school football machine scored two touchdowns in quick succession to give the Quips a great scare, and had the football tragedy of having another touchdown called back, a touchdown that would have meant victory for the Croft-Gills machine.

Ellwood had a bad case of fumbles in the first half, paying the way for one of the Steelers touchdowns. Ellwood fumbled the opening kick-off giving the Quips possession of the ball on the Ellwood 24.

Odlivak and Mattia cut the Ellwood line in 10 tries with Odlivak going over. Dzvonar kicked the extra point putting the visitors ahead 7 to 0.

Aliquippa's second touchdown was a beautiful run-back on an Ellwood punt. Dzvonar took the ball on his own 20 and reversing his field ran 80 yards to score. Dzvonar again kicked the extra point and Aliquippa was leading 14 to 0.

Neither team threatened to score in the second and third periods, although the locals fumbled in several good spots.

Beginning the fourth period, Aliquippa fumbled on the Ellwood five. Conti picked up a yard through the line and then Jack McClintick, in for Tillia, ran around right end and the score was 14 to 6 for Aliquippa. Conti's kick for the extra point was wide.

After a good touchdown kickoff by Conti, Aliquippa deep in its territory, punted from the 10 to Ellwood's 32. Then came the spread formation, a play for which Ellwood was famous back in the Denny Schill regime. It completely dazzled the Steelers and took McClintick to Aliquippa's one before he was stopped. On the next play, Conti went through the line to score, and added the extra point by a line plunge. Aliquippa was leading, 14 to 13, and the fans were wild.

There was only a few minutes left to play, and it seemed that the locals couldn't be stopped. McClintick received Odlivak's punt on the Aliquippa 30 and outran everything on the field for 70 yards to touchdown. Ellwood fans were jubilant, but only for a minute or so when the officials called back the play and administered a penalty on Ellwood for holding. It was an outstanding play and a heartbreaker for the Ellwood team to have it nullified. The game ended a few seconds later.

Ellwood outplayed and outscored the visitors, and it was too bad that their gains were lost by the fumble rule. A glance at the statistics shows that Ellwood gained 164 yards in scrimmage to 82 by the Steelers, and Ellwood had 9 first downs to 4 for the winners.

The performance of Ellwood's line on defense was great, and credit should go to every lineman for a superb achievement. McClintick starred in the Ellwood backfield with Cartwright doing a fine job at blocking.

Next Friday night, Ellwood ends the home season when they will be at home to New Brighton High.

War Bond Rally
Program Tonight

Salute To Ellwood City Over KDKA Marks Start Of Rally Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 24.—The K. D. K. A. Salute to Ellwood City last night which was the opening gun of the War Bond rally was hailed as a real inspiration for Ellwood City to buy Bonds "until it hurts."

Entertainment and the dramatization of Ellwood City's industries converting into defense plants and later into "attack plants" was well done by the K. D. K. A. staff.

Edward Mackasek, local manufacturer and head of the Ellwood City Manufacturers Defense Cooperative, gave one of the finest War Bond addresses that has been heard over the air in many a day. Mrs. Mackasek's speech was hailed all over the state as one of real inspiration and a challenge to us all to purchase War Bonds "until it hurts."

One of the largest crowds to ever attend a patriotic rally is expected to be on hand at 6:30 o'clock tonight in front of the Municipal building. The entertainment that will be furnished by K. D. K. A., the 104 Cavalry Band and local talent will be the best that can be obtained. Everyone in the community is being asked by the rally to purchase some denomination of a War Bond. The Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., has sent a wire of congratulations to the local War Bond promotional committee for their spirited patriotic interest in stimulating the sale of War Bonds. The 104th Cavalry Band and Army jeps are expected to arrive in Ellwood City around 5 o'clock and they will have their dinner at the Methodist church. The local Elks Club will serve refreshments to the entertainers and K. D. K. A. staff immediately following the rally. Anyone who is shut in and wishes to purchase a Bond over the phone may do so by calling No. 35 and a special representative will take the order and the bond will be at the Peoples National Bank for a member of the household to obtain on Monday or Tuesday. The reason for the request for shut-ins to phone in their orders for Bonds is to swell the fund tonight so Ellwood City can break a record.

Fifth to Sixth street will be "opened" off from parking of cars from 6 o'clock until the last bond is sold.

During that period some of the still faithful members came into the church, including Mrs. Rae Chambers, Mrs. Lydia Douds, Mrs. Catherine Hainer, Sara Catherine Blatt, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Evans, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Shaffer, parents of Mrs. Lafa Butler, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, the Charles Ziegler, the L. W. Nickums, the W. J. McKims, the Joseph Moorheads, Mrs. Mary Steifel, Miss Jessie Benford and Dr. Ellwood Helling.

Doughboy Christmas Mail Approaches 'Rush' Stage

Christmas will still be two months off Sunday, but the Christmas mailing rush to Johnny Doughboy overseas—is beginning at the post office.

Postal officials today called it "a small Christmas rush."

Up to the busy parcel post windows at the post office moved a stream of parents and uncles and aunts and sweethearts with gifts destined to cheer some beloved soldier, sailor or marine at some far-flung battle outpost.

Many of them carry only the address of the postmaster at New York or the postmaster at San Francisco, but you can leave it to Uncle Sam's postal army to deliver the packages to the son or brother or husband or friend.

Superintendent of Mails David B. Thomas watched the steady increase of the mailing crowd this morning, and commented:

"Everyone's co-operating—and the boys are going to get a lot of Christmas mail from New Castle."

While postal sources suggest the size of a shoebox as the proper or convenient size for gift parcels to the soldiers, they do not mean that shoeboxes should be used. They regard them of ideal size.

Clerks were halting most gifts today that were wrapped in shoeboxes "because they're not strong enough for the long journey."

Outside of that, most patrons were observing long-publicized postal regulations of soldier gift mail.

Officials warned that November 1 is the deadline for mailing gifts abroad if delivery is intended for Christmas, and soldiers, they were quick to add, deserve their gifts by Christmas.

Longer Vacation At Westminster

Government Asks Three Weeks Be Given At Christmas; No Thanksgiving Holiday

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 24—Because of the war, Westminster college students will be given a three week Christmas vacation this year, Dean Maxwell R. Kelso has announced. Beginning December 15, the vacation will continue until January 7, instead of the two weeks ordinarily granted.

At the request of government officials, students will leave for home earlier and return later than usual, to clear transportation facilities for soldiers getting Christmas leaves. In addition, students will be given an opportunity to take jobs in stores and industries needing extra help for the holiday season.

To compensate for their extra vacation, Westminster students will have no time off for Thanksgiving, but will work straight through.

Family Night Party Attended By Record Crowd

Consistory Members And Families Enjoy Program In Cathedral Friday Evening

One of the finest dinner parties held in some time was enjoyed by a record crowd in the Cathedral last evening, when members of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., gathered for a dinner and program of entertainment of a high class order.

At the dinner Mrs. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh was the guest artist, and the customary pep singing was enjoyed, with Red Williams leading and Ernest Bransetter at the piano.

Afterwards a program of vaudeville was presented in the auditorium by a professional cast from Pittsburgh, followed by several talking pictures, with dancing and cards as the concluding feature.

The entertainment committee responsible for the successful party was composed of Ross Rosenberg, chairman; Clare B. Book, J. Orville Potter, R. Loy Boyd, Lewis A. Pearson, Delace Cole and William B. Reed.

The next dinner party, which will wind up the annual fall reunion, will take place on November 5, having been advanced from December 4, because of impending gasoline rationing and other war restrictions.

Kerosene Ration Cards Now Ready

Consumer applications for ration cards for kerosene and fuel oil are now ready for dealers. Robert A. Eckles, executive secretary of the Commodity Rationing Board announced today. These applications may be secured in the Aiken school on Pearson street or in the Municipal Building in Ellwood City but they can be secured only by dealers.

Each girl has her own story to tell—or part of it anyhow. Some parts of it are her own as pleasant secret memories. One co-ed's soldier has seen six months of service in far-off Hawaii; another has tales of her man's achievements in officers candidate school; some write regularly to China, England and Iceland; one fresh tells how she just lives for those week-end leaves he gets.

Many of the stories of romance are heart-rending as when the young man in Uncle Sam's armed forces has been sent without notice to a distant part of the states, or even out of the country to a foreign shore.

It's an artificial life these women are leading, living on memories and hopes. Wars are not fought only on far-away battlefields.

Browne, Ferguson Hall Women Look Forward To Furloughs, Write Men Overseas

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 24 —If star-centered flags flew from windows of women's dormitories for sweethearts in service, there would be a star-bedecked Browne Hall and Ferguson Hall here on the campus of Westminster College.

It has been estimated that half the women students are "Army widows" now, and more and more are joining their ranks. The plight of many Westminster co-eds is typical of that existing at colleges throughout the United States.

Each girl has her own story to tell—or part of it anyhow. Some parts of it are her own as pleasant secret memories. One co-ed's soldier has seen six months of service in far-off Hawaii; another has tales of her man's achievements in officers candidate school; some write regularly to China, England and Iceland; one fresh tells how she just lives for those week-end leaves he gets.

Many of the stories of romance are heart-rending as when the young man in Uncle Sam's armed forces has been sent without notice to a distant part of the states, or even out of the country to a foreign shore.

It's an artificial life these women are leading, living on memories and hopes. Wars are not fought only on far-away battlefields.

No leader is a dictator until he regards as treason any failure to agree with him.

Bamboo Envelope From Guadalcanal

With a hollowed-out bamboo stick for an envelope, a letter from Guadalcanal was sent to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Barber, West Washington street extension, from their son, Private Thomas E. Barber, U. S. M. C. He mentioned that the marines there are faring well on captured Jap food and cigarettes, though they sleep on plain boards covered with thin Japanese straw mats. He expects they will have to "start building USO clubs so the army won't be disappointed in our little jungle home."

Pvt. Barber praises the good air supply they are getting now, and adds, "if it is true we may get a Christmas leave, we marines will promise President Roosevelt we will send the Japs to see their ancestors a week before we leave."

Hoseless Legs, Health Benefit

So Reports Dr. Womer, City Health Officer In Today's Bulletin

Dr. W. A. Womer, city health officer issued a bulletin concerning bathing. He said that bathing and exposure to sunlight and air are beneficial to health; and bare legs and open work shoes also help one's health. He said:

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness. In all races and nations, the higher they rise in the social scale, the more care they give to their bodies. 'Away back in ancient times a great deal of attention was given to bathing. Elaborate baths were built at public expense. Only lately have the doctors found out the scientific value of a clean skin."

"A clean skin acts like an antiseptic. In other words, it kills germs. If living germs are placed on a clean skin they die in a very short time. If the skin is dirty they stay alive."

"Bathing and exposure to sunlight and air will help you to keep healthy. It is not necessary to expose the whole body. If the face and hands are bare, that is sufficient. Exercise out of doors is valuable on account of the light and air. Riding in a closed car is not so good."

"Some fads are sensible from a public health standpoint. The girls do well to do without stockings. Bare legs and open work shoes expose the skin and toes to sunlight and air. The feet and legs have to be kept clean, so here you are. Let the Japs wear the silk hose."

Spaghetti Dinner Plans Being Made

Annual Dinner Of Italian Methodist Church To Be Held In Cathedral Nov. 5

Arrangements are being completed for the annual spaghetti supper, to be sponsored by the Italian Methodist church, which will be held this year on Thursday, November 5, from 5 to 8 p. m., in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Last year, the dinner attracted such a huge crowd, over 500 to the Italian Methodist church, that it was deemed advisable to have the dinner this year in the Cathedral which seats 1,000 persons at one time.

The pastor of the Italian Methodist church, Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, reports that the sale of tickets is proceeding satisfactorily and it is expected that the attendance will be more than doubled this year.

The general executive committee appointed by the official board of the church includes the pastor, Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, R. L. Meermans, W. H. Weinschenk, Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti, Mrs. M. DiChristofaro, and Anthony Caravaggio. Other sub-committees will be named soon.

LOANS FOR EMPLOYED WOMEN

We're addressing any employed woman in this community who has a problem which cash can solve. Borrowing money is never wise if it means making difficulties worse . . . but there are certain circumstances in which a well-planned loan is the best way to get out of debt. And when ready cash isn't available for needed medical or dental work, needed clothing, for training which will increase one's earning power—then a loan is also common-sense. Here at Personal Finance Company we specialize in serving women. If you need cash—$10 to $250 or more—we'll see that you get it without embarrassment or delay, on just your own signature, without involving your friends or employer. There is no difficulty in handling monthly payments on a loan here. For example: $10.00 per mo. pays $100 loan in 12 mos. If you need cash, you'll be glad to serve you. Special quick service during lunch hour. Come in or phone. It will be a pleasure to serve you. Personal Finance Company, 2nd Floor, Woods Bldg., New Castle, Pa. Phone 2100.
